ENABLEMENT SINCE 2019

I am a girl who wants to live to see huge shifts in the world towards love and unity. I love to read and learn more about things related to personal growth and spirituality. I am currently not in traditional schooling because I have come to realise that I have slowly lost my love for learning the subjects taught. Now, I am taking education into my own hands and am pursuing deeper understanding in topics I find meaning in.

If you had to write a book, what will the title be? Why?

I have written one already! It is called "My Way Back Home". It is about my insights and thoughts as a teenager who was feeling lost. I know adolescence can be a lonely and confusing time, so I hope that my book can bring comfort and the knowledge that all of us have the innate wisdom to find our way back home.

How did you get to know PS and how did you become involved?

I came to know PS through Gumtree. I was actually looking for a part-time job for school holidays when I came across the ad. I got involved by reaching out through the email that was on the ad and things went from there. 😊

Why PeopleStories?

I wanted to contribute to the community outside my immediate environment and so when I came across PeopleStories I thought that this opportunity was how I can do that! Most of my volunteering was done locally hence when I saw that I can help children in other countries, I decided I wanted to join in. Plus, the picture of that little girl looking up at the camera on the homepage of PS website tugged at my heart.

If you could say something to your 10-year-old self, what would it be?

I would say: You are always surrounded by love, even if you may not feel it. You are enough just as you are, you do not need achievements, accolades and good behaviour to feel loved. I love you so much.

If you are granted 3 wishes to make the world a better place, what would those wishes be?

- 1) I would wish for all of us to be awakened to unity of all life.
- 2) I would wish for everyone to act, think and say from a place of unconditional love to everyone and everything.
- 3) I would wish for all of us to understand that power of metaphysics – how our thoughts, words and actions can have so much power and impact on our own lives and on the world.
